TREASURING UNI HIGH!

NEAL REIN S'66, UHEF PRESIDENT

Several weeks ago I found myself digging through one of the large basement areas located below Uni's administration building. I was accompanied by Judy Wolfenstein and Carolyn Lynch, both fellow Foundation Board members. Our goal was to try to locate and retrieve some of the many items that represent the history of University High School. It was an archeological expedition that rivaled that of Harold Carter as he delved into King Tut's tomb. Although we did not locate a golden sarcophagus or any treasures from ancient Egypt, what we did discover is of great interest to all of us who attended or worked at Uni.

Among the many items buried deep in dust and trash were collections of attendance records from the past several decades, boxes of outdated textbooks, student and teacher scrapbooks, long outdated supplies, some of the original brass hardware from the old doors, cabinets hand made in the early 20's, a family of feral cats, and several long lost trophies covered with decades of dust. Although these items were of interest, a short time later we hit paydirt as we uncovered the full set of "blueprints" for the construction of University High school. Although these documents are in terrible condition, they are complete, readable, and should have been stored in a time capsule rather than on a dusty floor.

We examined these documents, some of them dating back to 1923, two years before Uni first opened. In addition to the plans for the original buildings, there are blueprints for several of the major additions and renovations that have taken place over the past years. I was especially interested in the plans for the old Auditorium and for the seismic strengthening that was required after the 1933 Long Beach earthquake. Even the original topographic maps and drawings remain intact.

Although it is common knowledge that University High school was named Warren Harding High when the doors first opened in 1924, the original plans identified the school at "Sawtelle High." This name was never used for the school and until we found these plans, I don't know if anyone ever knew that Uni was going to be named for the small "City of Sawtelle". Few people even know that there was a city of Sawtelle. The small city was annexed by the city of Los Angeles in the 1922. In fact, next to the City of Sawtelle, there was a separate "City of Westgate" which became a part of Los Angeles in 1915.

The Foundation is very interested in preserving and displaying these blueprints somewhere on the Uni campus. The paper is old, brittle and in need of much TLC. Unfortunately, such is the case with so much of Uni today. Your efforts on these blueprints as well as any other efforts to preserve the history and memories of Uni are greatly needed and will be well worth it. The current and future students at Uni need to know what a wonderful, beautiful and historic school they attend. Please let me know if you are interested in helping

OCTOBER 19TH CAR SHOW

This year the Car Show featured at the All Alumni picnic will be a judged event featuring classic cars from the 20s through the 70s. Trophies will be awarded. This show is open to everyone who loves vintage cars - you don't need to be a former Uni student to enter.

Last year we had some outstanding vehicles on display. Just think, you can actually park your classic on the campus without getting in trouble with the Principal! We can't let you burn rubber or make TOO much noise, but it is a wonderful way to both display your pride and joy as well as helping us all to remember those wonderful days past.

If you are interested, contact: Neal Rein by email: or call him at (818) 991-0628. Be sure to bring your digital cameras. Photos will be posted on the Uni Web site after the event.

GREETINGS FROM ELOIS MCGEHEE, PRINCIPAL

Greetings Uni Alumni,

I officially became principal of University High School on May, 13, 2002; however, my journey to Uni began long before that day.

The freezing winters in Detroit, Michigan compelled me to move to Los Angeles after receiving a BA in English from Michigan State University. I began teaching at Jefferson High School and remained there for 14 years in several teaching/administrative capacities ranging from Discipline Dean to Testing Coordinator. My climb up the educational ladder included two assignments as Assistant Principal at Taft High School in Woodland Hills and Locke High School in South Los Angeles, respectively. The years spent at these schools gave me an opportunity to work with students from diverse ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds. In the position I held prior to becoming Uni's principal I was Complex Administrator for Local District J. In that role I was able to study, research and receive training in current educational strategies and trends to promote student achievement.

All of my previous educational experiences have equipped me to meet the challenges of leading one of the most respected high schools in the City. Much of what Uni is today is because of the individuals who filled these corridors in the past. In my short time here I have seen how the support from the UniHigh Foundation has been a benefit to the staff and students. Thank you for all that you have done and continue to do on behalf of the students of University High School.

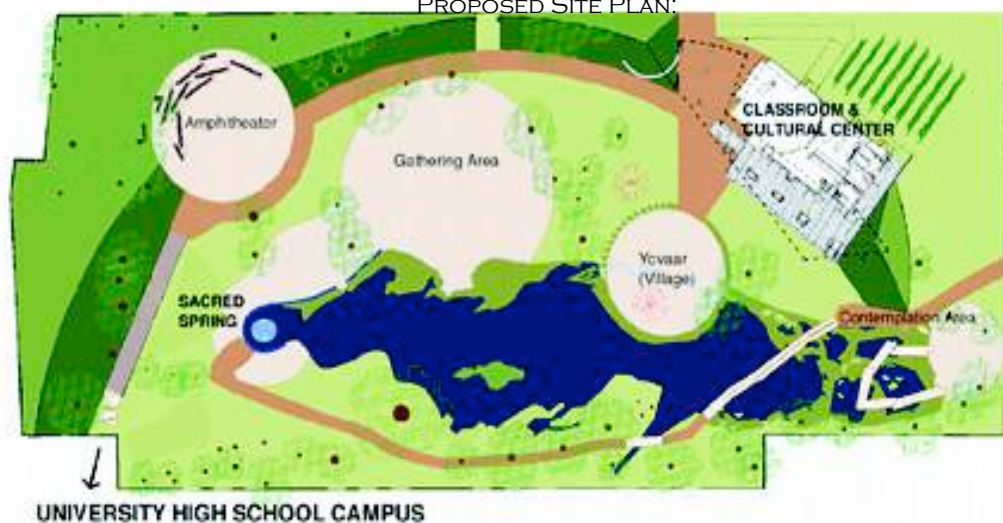

Elois McGehee

SACRED SPRINGS PROJECT UPDATE

In the past year the plans for the Sacred Springs Project were refined and the necessary State permits were granted. We are anticipating that structural changes will begin at the site during the summer. The project will restore, revivify and reinvigorate a significant cultural and ecological site located on the South-East corner of University High School. The old horticulture/agriculture area will become a joint-use location. Uni will have a unique outdoor classroom, an ecological immersion teaching environment, while at the same time the project will strengthen the opportunities for the cultural practice and sacred observance of the Los Angeles area American Indian population.

As all of you know, the "Indian Springs" corner of Campus was always it's most beautiful spot. When it is completed the beauty of the Sacred Springs site will become a complement to the special atmosphere created by this unique upwelling of water in the heart of the city. It will be the place where the many layers of history are remembered, researched and respected.

REMEMBER THE FOUNDATION IN YOUR ESTATE PLAN

One lasting way to support your school is to remember the UNI HIGH FOUNDATION in when making your estate plan. There are several ways to do this and all of them are designed to add your name to the list of those who have chosen to give back a little something to the school that was so helpful in preparing you for your life of success and fulfillment.

These options include:

- A bequest of a fixed dollar amount
- Give a percentage of your estate to the Foundation (This allows you to maintain the proportions you desire, regardless of the size of your estate)
 - Your gift can be contingent. (You can indicate what program, department, or other use the for which the money must be spent. Examples include student scholarships, specific department or program (eg. Drama, Music, Art, Language, Academic decathlon, etc.)
 - You can give property (Examples include, but are not limited to, real estate, business property, life insurance policies, collections which have a resale value, stocks, bonds, etc.) The obvious concern is that the gift not place a financial burden on the Foundation.

One of the nicest things you can do is make your gift in memory of someone, either yourself or a person you've either loved or admired. This option also exists for naming locations on the campus, including buildings, to be dedicated in the name/memory of the person. This is a wonderful way to create a lasting memory.

If you are interested in making the Foundation one of your beneficiaries and have any questions, please feel free to contact UHEF V.P. Jack S.Moscowitz at (310) 279-2116 or jmoscowi@lausd.k12.ca.us Hospitality Room at the Ramada Inn in Culver City. Drinks and munchies were supplied for everyone as they arrived, which allowed everyone an informal way of meeting each other. Some gathered in a group and went out to dinner, some just stayed and visited. Friday was a Free day and we supplied transportation to the Getty and other locations. In the evening we gathered in a room to watch a video about the Japanese-Americans who served in the Military Intelligence during WWII, and also explained what happened to those who were interned into the camps. This was provided by Gorden Tom Yamada, whose daughter, Gayle, produced it for the PBS TV network.

Saturday was our big day with classmates gathering together for breakfast in the hotel, visiting the Maritime Museum, and other special places. That night we met at our classmate Rev. John Bennett's home in Rolling Hills. His wife Cherie had decorated their lovely yard with beautifully set tables in a Mexica theme, around their pool. Sombreros were handed out. A beautiful floral piece with balloons and a sign stating UNI HI 60 YEARS floated on the pool. We had a delicious catered Mexican dinner, and approximately 60 people were present. Tom Ishii, our chairman, had his Juke Box set up with speakers so we could enjoy the GREAT music of our time (Glenn Miller, Artie Shaw, Benny Goodman, to name a few). Our classmate, Don Carmichael, an author of several books and a career Army officer spoke to us, and Classmate Harold Cabrera played his Keyboard for us. A great time was had by all.

The reunion committee for the 60th was Tom Ishii, chairman, with classmates Juanita King Klein, Sam Aldrich, (and wife Brigi who also attended our meetings), Bruce Young and Hope Hambly Young. Tom called committee meetings on an as need basis and did alot of the leg work, but all the committee members went to the hotel to check it out. Each member of the comittee volunteered to do different jobs such as buy and serve the food, get the program set up, plan for transportation during the reunion, etc. We keep a running list of our classmates. Tom sends out Newsletters every so often with updated news from everyone who writes to him. Our list has 346 names; 49 are confirmed deceased; and 25 listed as moved with no forwarding address. (editor's comment: When asked to provide his graduation picture for this article Tom wrote the following "Here is my picture from the year book of 1942. I know I looked innocent and shy, which I was back then. Also 50 pounds lighter. No one remembers me back at school, and they always ask me, who I dated. I never dated in school, because I used to have asthma then, and whenever I would call up a girl for a date, I would be wheezing, and they would think that it was from an obscene caller and hang up on me." For those of you who don't know Tom, these comments are vintage.)

She would have graduated in 1944 had she stayed at Uni. This picture is from the '42 Chieftain. Who is she?

MARINERS CLASS OF WINTER 1952
CELEBRATES 50TH
BY "CAPTAIN" BARBARA PEARCE FEICK

On Saturday, May 4th, the Mariners sailed into Ojai to celebrate. Some arrived as early as May 2nd and stayed till the 6th. Others arrived on the 4th, just for the party. The Reunion Party was held in a private home belonging to a classmate. As the evening progressed a lovely catered buffet dinner was served. All guests were asked to bring a door prize. During the evening numbers were drawn and everyone received a gift. The results of the Friday Texas Scramble Golf Tournament were announced. Awards and story-telling followed. Sunday morning there was a brunch at the Soule Park Golf Course.

We all had a wonderful time and look forward to our next reunion, which is already being planned.

THE WEB SITE IS BACK WE'RE DOT ORG NOW!

AN UPDATE FROM NEAL

The Uni High web site is now back on line! The new address is "universityhs.org". Please be sure to change from the old "dot com" to the new "dot org" domain.

The web site went down several months ago and unfortunately all of the prior postings were lost by the previous hosting company. It has taken a lot of work, but the new site, although still under construction, is working. The Alumni Forum is there and will be undergoing modifications in order to recreate the previous functions. In addition, there will be many new and interesting pages and functions. Please be patient with us. I can assure you that the new web site, when completed, will have been worth the wait.

I want to extend my special thanks and recognition to Ms. Danna Coonan-Lee who is a teacher at Uni. Danna has taken on the task and responsibility for getting us back on line and for coordinating the design of the new site. Danna has enlisted the aid of several of her students to do much of this work under her supervision. This is a great learning experience for the students and as such fits one of the goals of the UniHi Foundation, i.e. helping the students at Uni to get the best education possible. These students are treating the Foundation as a "customer" and we are treating them like a "client" in order to give them realistic and useful hands-on experience. They are doing a great job in the true spirit of Uni High.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS 2002

At the Senior Awards ceremony last June your Uni High Foundation presented three scholarship awards to graduating seniors.

The Jason C. Foerstel Memorial Fund was established in 1991 in memory of Jason C. Foerstel, a Uni student who was killed in an automobile collision. The Scholarship for $500 is to assist deserving students pursue their education. The recipient for 2002 is Diane Laeva. The award will help her with child-care costs while attending college.

The Loren Camacho Scholarship Fund was established in 1987 in memory of Loren Camacho, a Uni student who was killed in a tragic traffic accident. The $500 Scholarship Program is designed to assist, on a need basis, a student who has shown a demonstrated effort to overcome difficulty and a desire to pursue success in college and life. The recipient for the year 2002 is Antonio Martinez.

In 2002 the United States Government established the Presidential Freedom award for extraordinary community service. Each federal award is for $500 and the UHEF was delighted to be able to match that amount. The 2002 recipient is Stephanie Varlotta. Stephanie brought attention to the lack of equitable sports facilities for the Women's softball team at Uni, and the LAUSD had to correct the problem. She has just completed her first year at Cornell.

We look forward to participating at the Awards Ceremony again. Your membership in the UHEF makes that possible.

University High School – How It Happened
June 10, 1945

by A.L. Cavanaugh

If with pleasure you are viewing
Any work a man is doing
And you know him and you like him, tell him now.
He won't hear adulation
When the parson makes oration
And he lies with snowy lilies on his brow.

Note: We have edited the following text for a modern reader. Uni's first principal, Mr. Cavanaugh wrote the piece as a tribute to the work of community leader, Walter Armacost. It provides fascinating insight to the history of Los Angeles as well as University High School.

Too frequently we just accept bounties without appreciation. In the case at hand, it may be due to ignorance. To correct this latter possibility and to follow the admonition in the opening verse are the purposes of this article.

"An institution is the lengthened shadow of a man." University High School, with its surrounding community, is the lengthened shadow of Walter Armacost. The writer became a resident of the old town of Sawtelle in 1920 which at that time was in the midst of a local political upheaval. The town had voted to annex itself to Los Angeles but the courts having found a technicality in the annexation proceedings, the town was being administered by a Board of Trustees unfriendly to annexation. Consequently, this Board refused to call another election to correct the errors of the previous one. It was necessary to wait until the term of the local Board expired. In the meantime a Good Government Committee of citizens was organized for the purpose of putting up an opposition ticket pledged to call an annexation election at the earliest date. This ticket was headed by Walter Armacost and incidentally included the writer.

After an old fashioned political fight the Good Government ticket was elected by a substantial majority and Walter Armacost was given the largest vote. At the organization of the new Board of Trustees he was elected Mayor of the town. Petitions were circulated and an election held with the result that annexation carried by a big majority. We became West Los Angeles—the first symptom of an awakened community. Campaigns followed in rapid succession for aqueduct water to replace the extremely "hard" and none-too-plentiful local supply; for storm drains and paved streets; for a branch city hall and police station. All were obtained and it became evident that the old town was having its face lifted. Through all of these campaigns Walter Armacost was the moving spirit of wise counsel and inspiration. But something was still lacking. The town needed a high school. Most of the young people were going to Santa Monica and other Los Angeles high schools.

The present high school site was then owned by the Santa Monica Water Company and previously had supplied some of the water for the Bay area. Its underlying springs proved later to be [a] construction problem when the school was built. Mr. Armacost was responsible for securing favorable action from the Superintendent of Schools, Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, and the Board of Education. About an acre of the tract at the corner of Texas and Westgate where the main building is now situated, was then owned by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Widows Home Association. This also was secured in spite of the fact that a corner-stone had been laid for a building to house the Association.

In 1923 Los Angeles promoted a school expansion program and, through the efforts of Mr. Armacost, a high school for West Los Angeles was included in the budget. In November of that year the writer was appointed principal of the high school and an architect selected to plan the initial building program. Soon after that the Superintendent and Business Manager of the Board together with the architect and principal met on the site to determine the location of the buildings. It was urged that they be placed on the Barrington Avenue side where the ground was reasonably level but the Superintendent was persuaded by the architect to place them where they are now.

Ground was broken in March of 1924, the corner-stone of the main building was laid in April by the Grand Master of Masons of California with a large guard of honor from four Commanderies of Knights Templary. Veteran Masonic Lodge of West Los Angeles was in charge of arrangements and supplied the silver trowel used by Grand Master Arthur S. Crites of Bakersfield to lay the stone. A copper box in the stone contains many interesting documents which some day may come to light. The minutes of the Chamber of Commerce contains a list of these items.

School was opened in September of 1924 with more than 600 pupils and 30 teachers. There were three buildings consisting of the main building but without the north wing, the cafeteria with shops underneath and the combination auditorium-gymnasium.

The grounds at that time were very uninviting. Old weather-beaten walnut trees covered the low ground while sage brush and horehound claimed the hills. A pond of water was located where the triangle with its Virginia Oak now stands and it supplied some pupil experiences which were not particularly to the liking of the victims or to the administration.

The athletic situation was temporarily solved by the boys. Enough of the the walnut trees were grubbed out to make room for football and the ground cleared and leveled by rakes and shovels. But playing on that hard ground required Spartan courage. One boy had his neck broken but survived though he wore a leather collar for some time. Later a landscape plan was devised and ground was put into condition as it now is. The football field and the girls' playground were grassed and everybody was happy. In addition to the present landscaping, Mr. Armacost persuaded a world renowned landscape artist, Mr. Rose, to study the site and make suggestions for further improvement. This was done at no cost to the school district, and those plans are, or should be, somewhere in the archives of University High School.

Mr. Armacost has always been interested in flowers and shrubs. It was he who persuaded the Superintendent that a department of Floriculture should be included in the high school plans. The writer spent one hot summer day with Mr. Armacost while he sketched the lay-out of the corner of the campus which is now one of the prettiest spots to be found anywhere. When the plant was built, it was Mr. Armacost who supplied the man to run it. A man trained in the old country was then Mr. Armacost's plant grower and University High School acquired him.

From here on, Mr. Armacost's efforts were merged with those of the West Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce which used its influence and good offices repeatedly in behalf of University High School to secure additional buildings and improvements. After repeated efforts to secure an adequate auditorium, the good news finally arrived that an appropriation had been made for it. We had been offered a modest auditorium but had declined with thanks. A real one was wanted.

Plans for a south wing for the main building had been made and the location for the new auditorium was selected to join up with this new wing when built. About the time construction on the south wing was to start, the well remembered earthquake [31] put a crimp in the plans. Those plans are still reposing in the files at the Business Office and they should be dusted off.

The contract for the auditorium was let and construction begun. The necessary excavation revealed ample springs of water. Attempts were made to seal off the water by means of caissons but the attempts failed. A conference was held on the ground by the new Superintendent. He urged the abandonment of the site and a new start was made on Texas Avenue where the bungalows are now located. The writer vigorously objected to the change which would upset the arrangement of the completed scheme of buildings. He received enough support to continue the study of construction. An additional appropriation of funds was made by the Board of Education and concrete piles were driven to form a secure foundation. The auditorium was completed and it came through the earthquake in almost perfect condition. That auditorium is the result of much planning on the part of the faculty. Members inspected theaters and school auditoriums for ideas. A most cooperative and competent architect in the Business Department put the various ideas into the plans. The result is that University High School has an auditorium which is both appropriate and beautiful. The struggle to secure it has been long forgotten. [The auditorium was destroyed after the '71 earthquake and Stivelman was constructed in the center of campus. – ed].

A final matter of interest might well be noted. The grading operation, required by the landscaping plans, turned up many Indian relics some of which are in the archives of the school. The school site had been an old Indian camp ground. This is why the school paper became the Warrior, the annual the Chieftain, the little publication of the English department the Papoose. Thus the mighty Warriors were born.

University High School, its inception and its construction, is largely the result of thought and work of Walter Armacost. He has maintained his interest in the school all during its twenty years of existence. At no time has he used his influence to mold the school to his plans. His efforts have all been constructive. University High should be grateful for the part he has played in its building. University High School is indeed the lengthened shadow of Walter Armacost.
